

Community Catering List

In partnership with

Georgia Tech
Center for Sustainable Communities
Research and Education

| Badge Level                          | Company Name (Business Name)                            | Food Type                                          | Email                                                                    | Phone number                     | Website                                                                                                        | Services                          | Location      | Background                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|--------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|---------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Certified Vendor                     | Al Chef                                                 | Mediterranean                                      | chefalchef@gmail.com                                                     | (484) 936-3931(484) 528-7979 | www.alchef-restaurant.com/                                     | Catering, Delivery, Market Events | Clarkston, GA | Al Chef is a family-owned Mediterranean restaurant in Clarkston, Georgia, whose roots in Iraq and Syria inspire the food we serve. Our mission is to bring the traditional flavors of the Middle East to the community through homemade recipes, fresh ingredients, and food prepared with the same care we use at home. From savory shawarma and kebabs to homemade hummus, tabbouleh, and other Mediterranean favorites, Al Chef offers a flavorful and welcoming experience that brings a little taste of home to every gathering. |
| Community Champion, Certified Vendor | Adam J's Sandwich Shop (Butterly Foods LLC)             | Sandwiches, Wraps, Salads                          | catering@adamjsatl.com                                                   | (478) 775-8497                   | www.adamjsatl.com                                                       | Catering, Food Truck              | Atlanta, GA   | Adam J's mission is simple: to create another treasure for Atlanta to enjoy. Our Food Truck brings Adam J's signature gourmet grilled cheese sandwiches to events across the city, including corporate events, community gatherings, and Georgia Tech football games. We elevate the classic grilled cheese with locally sourced bread, premium cheeses, and bold combinations like our Chicken Parmesan and Braised Beef Grilled Cheese.                                                                                             |
| Certified Vendor                     | Asian Fusion (Tech Square Food Hall LLC)                | Asian                                              | asianfusiongatech@gmail.com                                              | (718) 666-8923                   | www.asianfusiongatech.com                                       | Catering, Delivery                | Atlanta, GA   | Asian Fusion offers a unique culinary experience that blends the flavors of various Asian cuisines. The restaurant's elegant and modern decor creates a welcoming ambiance, making it an ideal destination for both casual dining and special occasions. Whether you're in the mood for a quick lunch or a leisurely dinner, Asian Fusion promises to transport your taste buds on a flavorful journey through the vibrant flavors of Asia.                                                                                           |
| Certified Vendor                     | Bite of Korea (PFE0 LLC)                                | Korean                                             | catering@biteofkorea.com                                                 | (478) 338-7218                   | www.biteofkorea.com                                                   | Catering, Takeout                 | Tucker, GA    | The Bite of Korea in Tucker, GA serves up Korean food near you, with standout options like Korean Fried Chicken, Boneless, Bulgogi Ricebowl, Gochujang Chicken Ricebowl, Bulgogi Quesadilla. An easy choice when you're looking for something flavorful near you.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Certified Vendor                     | Bro-Ritos                                               | Mexican                                            | broritosatl@gmail.com                                                    | (281) 483-9448                   | https://www.broritosfoodtruck.com/                            | Catering, Takeout                 | Atlanta, GA   | BroRitos builds our menu with bold flavors and fresh ingredients, offering everything from burritos and tacos to quesadillas, with signature items like our Suaveante Bro. We're committed to creating a unique experience with each bite.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Certified Vendor                     | Chef Neetskeyah/Deborah Yungai                          | Soul Vegetarian                                    | dyungai@yahoo.com                                                        | (484) 964-5221                   | N/A                                                                                                            | Catering                          | Atlanta, GA   | Deborah has been in the food service industry through various capacities since the early '80s. She completed her Culinary Arts degree at Atlanta AreaTech in the early '90's. In 2004, she joined Soul Vegetarian, where she excelled and eventually became Head Chef and Caterer. She recently became the Head Chef and Caterer for Makeda's Kitchen, a venture she has passionately pursued on the side.                                                                                                                            |
| Certified Vendor                     | Good As Burgers                                         | Fast Food Vegan                                    | contact@goodasburgers.com | (678) 647-6997                   | www.goodasburgers.com/                                             | Food Truck, Catering              | Atlanta, GA   | Using his family's health battles and LA life experiences, Cornoy was inspired to create an all-plant-based restaurant and expose various communities in Atlanta to a different healthier way of eating. From their signature GAB's Original Burger to tasty sides, Good As Burgers offers a menu prepared from perfection!                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Certified Vendor                     | Kayla's Italian Ice LLC                                 | Desserts, Cocktails/Mocktails (Vegan, Gluten-Free) | kaylasitalianice@gmail.com                                               | (678) 789-6888                   | kaylasitalianice.com                                                 | Food Truck, Catering, Delivery    | Atlanta, GA   | Kayla's Italian Ice was born out of a craving-and a dream. When Kayla was just 9 years old, she longed for the refreshing Italian Ice her mom grew up with in New York. But living in Atlanta and being lactose intolerant meant the options were limited. So with just $100 and her mother's unwavering support, Kayla turned her sweet tooth into a small business with a big mission: to bring joy, inclusion, and flavor to every community-one allergen-free scoop at a time.                                                   |
| Certified Vendor                     | Lawton's Chicken Sausage                                | Fast Food Chicken Sausages (Brunch)                | info@lawtonsausagescompany.com                                           | (478) 478-8322                   | www.lawtonsausagescompany.com                               | Catering                          | Metro Atlanta | For people seeking an alternative to the highly processed pork and beef options, we provide all natural, all chicken sausage links and patties for breakfast or lunch. We can distribute for foodservice or we can perform pop-ups to serve for lunch or breakfast.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Certified Vendor                     | Nanna's Sudanese Cuisine                                | Sudanese                                           | nannassudanescuisine@gmail.com                                           | (678) 653-4428                   | Facebook Page                                                                                  | Catering, Delivery                | Metro Atlanta | A Taste of Sudan and a Tribute to Her Mother's Love, who spent over 38 years selling food in the streets to build a better future. Nanna's is a celebration of resilience, culture, and quiet strength of women. Every dish honors and tells her story through the heartfelt blend of authentic Sudanese flavors, filled with aromatic spices.                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Certified Vendor                     | Noori's Kitchen                                         | Ethnic Afghan                                      | noorinizakat1@gmail.com                                                  | (678) 618-5883                   | N/A                                                                                                            | Catering, Market Events           | Metro Atlanta |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Certified Vendor                     | Parlay Food Truck                                       | Soul                                               | info@parlaysavorysaloon.com                                              | (678) 562-7162                   | www.parlaysavorysaloon.com                                     | Catering, Food Truck              | Metro Atlanta | PARLAY is Atlanta's premier dining choice to Share, Savor, and Sip. PARLAY offers food services via a food truck, traditional catering stations, as well as concession stands. When guests experience PARLAY, it's like going to a friend's house that always pulls out all of the stops to make sure that the visit is special. Our menu is made w/LOVE, filled w/Comfort, and glazed w/Sanctified Soul! We serve THE best Soul Food, Sea Food, and Snack Food in the A!                                                             |
| Certified Vendor                     | Pecan Jacks Ice Cream & Kitchen                         | Ice Cream                                          | Westmidtownatl@pecanjack.com                                             | (248) 684-8331                   | pecanjack.com/locations/west-midtown-atlanta | Catering, Food Truck, Delivery    | Atlanta, GA   | Pecan Jacks is a family owned ice cream and candy kitchen specializing in over 38+ flavors of homemade ice cream, hand stretched brittle, pralines, and gourmet chocolates.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Certified Vendor                     | Sooko Gardens                                           | Drinks/Beverages                                   | sookogardens@gmail.com                                                   | (678) 392-7239                   | sookogardens.com                                                         | Catering, Delivery                | Suwanee, GA   | Sooko Gardens is a Georgia-based maker of small-batch, wellness-focused fruit and botanical drinks. We provide Hydrators for retail and premium non-alcoholic beverage service for events, all made fresh with no additives.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Certified Vendor                     | The Pickle Food Truck (Ultimate Culinary Solutions LLC) | Tex-Mex, Southern, Bayou                           | Agrimes4@gmail.com                                                       | (484) 421-9888                   | ultimateculinary.com/                                               | Catering, Food Truck              | Atlanta, GA   | Some Tasty Ideas Straight From Our Kitchen. Our menu was created from our tried and true favorites. We love to collaborate, so tell us some of yours. Together, we'll create the perfect meal to bring your event to life!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Certified Vendor                     | VTasteCakes                                             | Vegan Bakeshop                                     | yummy@vtastecakes.com                                                    | (678) 964-5482                   | https://www.vtastecakes.com/                                        | Catering and pickup               | Metro Atlanta | My passion lies in food, the environment, and art, all while uniting people. With family members with food allergies, I created VTasteCakes as a one-stop destination aiming to redefine vegan desserts and showcase that allergy-friendly, plant-based goodness can go hand in hand.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Certified Vendor                     | Zaza's Kitchen                                          | Customizable Menus, Seasonal Produce               | chefza@zazaskitchen.com                                                  | (678) 595-7685                   | www.zazaskitchen.com                                                 | Catering, Cooking Workshops       | Atlanta, GA   | Let ZK set the mood for an intimate experience of exquisite dining and unforgettable memories with our On-Site Plated Dinner Party Experience. This curated service features a customizable sourced menu, expertly paired wines, beautifully printed menus, elegant floral arrangements, and a stunning tablescape. Available for up to 28 guests, with plant-based options upon request.                                                                                                                                             |